

Matrix Security for your business ... protection you can count on.

Matrix Security Group offers the widest range of quality security services for business and homes – and is a market-leader when it comes to fast, effective response. We work alongside you to assess your particular risks, and create the right solutions for people and organisations serious about security.

Established in 1993, Matrix Security is and has always been wholly New Zealand owned and operated. For more than two decades, we've grown to offer our services in regions stretching from greater Auckland to Waikato and the Taranaki; as well as deploying staff for contract periods in Wellington, the West Coast and during the Christchurch rebuild.

We have a reputation as true professionals in the security services sector - offering tailored solutions, and then going the extra mile to deliver a consistently excellent service. Many of our clients have been with us for several years as we have helped support them through expansion and transition to new premises. We are immensely satisfied knowing our clients can go about their day in the knowledge that their people and assets are protected.

Reliable and reputable protection ...

Our proactive risk assessment and innovative approach to security are what sets us apart. From the CEO through to frontline security officers, our Matrix Security team has the experience, skills, training and resources that allow us to lead the way in providing premium security solutions. From patrol officers to operational supervisors and first-level resolution via our call-centre, our staff are well supported by a dedicated Human Resources team, robust training and professional development systems.

When you invite us into your business or home, you can be assured you are dealing with a professional organisation committed to meeting the highest standard in the security industry.

MATRIX SECURITY

Protection you can count on

Simply the best

The professionalism and training of our security officers is the cornerstone of our business, and enables us to deliver a higher performance result for our customers. We take care of problems so that you don't have to.

As part of our ongoing commitment to our clients, we continue to invest in our core infrastructure and technology. Real-time reporting of day-to-day guard operations is possible with our clever dedicated guard tour and reporting ActiveGuard app – ideal for your security, health & safety, facility management and other incident reporting.

The right fit for your business ...

We understand that theft, criminal damage, fire and emergency scenarios are all real threats to any business. Enlisting the right security partner and systems means a reduction in unbudgeted emergency repairs – and is the simplest way to avoid unnecessary interruptions, meaning fewer costs and less stress.

Specialist security services

For industries operating in high-risk environments such as aviation, food processing, oil & gas, mining, manufacturing and logistics industries, our experience in client health and safety procedures is extensive. We are familiar and competent with dealing with issue motivated groups in order to protect the integrity of customer operations and can tailor our services to fulfil specific operational challenges or hazards.

"We rely on Matrix Security to ensure our wharf and refinery operations are not only protected, but that health and safety procedures are well respected. Our business relationship is excellent and we are all very pleased with their professionalism."

- Iain McKenzie, Site Engineer, New Zealand Sugar Company.

"We are delighted to award our security business to Matrix Security who, like us, believe that safer communities nurture growth and confidence. Without their additional generosity and a bespoke solution we would be hard-pressed to keep the Diocese safe and secure." - Dean Jo-Kelly Moore, Auckland's Holy Trinity Cathedral.

"Since engaging Matrix Security we've seen a real step up in proactive protection of our facility. It's critical for us to maintain the highest standard of food quality and safety. Although we have excellent electronic security systems, one recent incident demonstrated the value of having security officers on site. I really appreciate their daily reporting - and I know they find things!"

- Kerry Morrison, Engineering & Services Manager, Yashili NZ Dairy
